RESIDENT SPEAKS AT SACRAMENTO, CAL.

s He Will Hereafter Discuss More the Leading Questions of the Day.

RAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 5.—After g one of the longest jumps of ip and traveling for twenty-five through Oregon and the north California, President Taft ar- here last night at 7:10 o'clock. he will proceed to Oakland and Francisco. The President was ained at dinner, was taken for tomobile ride through the city nade an address in the State l grounds.

President selected for the prin- feature of his speech the con- ion of natural resources, in he declared anew that before of the Roosevelt policies of con- ion can be carried into effect, matory and enabling legislation be secured, and he pledged him- o use all his power to induce ess to pass the laws necessary. ing already made a number of peeches covering the various sub- he expects to incorporate in his l message to Congress, the Presi- during the rest of his tour will ss in more or less detail, many e phases of the larger questions, e believes that after all, the de- count more than a mere general ration of policy.

ring the twenty-five hours' ride en Portland and Sacramento, nly stops were at division points s necessary to the operation of rain.

Dunsmuir, near the foot of Mount a, a magnificent snow-clad peak, the President declared that the night of solid sleep and the bracing air of Northern California had entirely "knocked out" the cold he contracted in Seattle.

Mr. Taft thoroughly enjoyed his stay on the train. He read a little, lounged about the car, played a friendly game of "bridge" with members of his party, and during the five or six hours' Mount Shasta was in sight, admired that towering peak in all the changing aspects the winding railroad brought into view.

The President said yesterday that he had been overwhelmed with the reception he had received everywhere on the trip.

After passing today in San Francisco, President Taft heads for the Yosemite valley.

Speaking from the car end at Dunsmuir, Cal., President Taft said in part:

Speech at Dunsmuir.

"Everywhere in this country I have found evidence of prosperity, from Boston to Portland, and if signs do not fail we are upon an era of business enterprise and expansion that never has been seen in this country before. Now, with that I would not have you forget that there are certain responsibilities. We have had evils growing out of prosperity. Men have seized power by means of accumulation of wealth and its use in methods that are not legal and cannot be approved by way of monopoly and otherwise. Now we are attempting by the general law of the United States to suppress that kind of abuse.

"They were brought to the attention of the people in a marvelous crusade by my predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, and it is my duty to continue those policies and to enforce them as far as I may, and recommend to Congress that there be put upon the American statute books those laws that shall clinch the progress which was made under him, which he preached and which we all look forward to as a permanent condition. It is to the people that we must look for an enforcement of these principles.

"You should select your representatives and have them know you are watching them in Congress and that they follow the law of enforcement.

"Now, my fellow citizens, I feel sure that you are not only healthy in body but healthy in mind; that you are in favor of the good things; that you are in favor of decent government; that you are in favor of decent men and decent women, and that you look forward to the future as a time when we shall all grow better."

WILBUR WRIGHT MADE HIS GREATEST FLIGHT

Speed of 20 Miles in 33 Minutes and 33 Seconds Over Naval Vessels In Hudson.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—An aeroplane flashed past the white dome of Grant's tomb yesterday, then turning gracefully in mid-air over the waters of the Hudson, shot like a falcon back to Governor's Island, 10 miles away.

Wilbur Wright thus placed his name in the rank with Hudson and Fulton yesterday in one of the most spectacular feats in the history of aeronautics.

Over the masts of warships from whose decks hoarse cheers of the sailors were borne up to him in his elevated seat, he flew for twenty miles—10 miles up and 10 miles back, remaining in the air of 33 minutes and 33 seconds and alighting at the aerodrone without mishap.

During the flight business was practically at a standstill in all that part of Manhattan from which a view of his remarkable performance was available. Harbor craft shrieked their applause, cheer after cheer swept up from the banks of the Hudson and the lower bay, for the Dayton aviator had "made good," crowning the aviation program of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration with a record.

Wright started on his flight up the Hudson at 9:56 a. m., and finished at 10:29:33. He had intended to improve upon his achievement of the morning by making a longer and more hazardous flight at sunset, but the crippling of his motor just as he was about to start on the evening attempt dashed his hopes as well as those of the thousands who had assembled on Governor's Island to cheer him on.

The flight was made under conditions only moderately favorable. The wind was blowing about 10 miles an hour, while an overcast sky added to the uncertainty of the weather. Amid the chatter of the machine's exhaust, which sounded like musketry fire, Wright climbed to his seat in his aeroplane. In a moment the machine was off. With the planes tilted slightly to one side, the man-bird slowly ascended into the air, rising to a height of barely 20 feet, while it swooped in semi-circle toward the water's edge. Here the presence of many craft, all hysterically tooting their whistles, caused him to ascend further into the air before making for the mouth of the river.

Almost indistinguishable against the gray-banked clouds, the machine soared past old Castle William and soon entered the canon made by the giant skyscrapers of Manhattan Island and the Jersey hills.

Over the warships of four great powers he passed, his progress marked by cheer from the sailors of his own country and those of Great Britain, Germany, France and Italy.

When the air vessel reached the British cruiser "Argyll," anchored an eighth of a mile above Grant's tomb, Wright described an easy and graceful curve and started on his return journey down the river. The wind conditions which had bothered him on the journey up, were now more favorable and it was here that the speed possibilities of the machine were demonstrated.

While the 10 miles up stream occupied nearly twenty minutes, the return flight was made in little more than 13 minutes, or at a rate approximately of 42 miles an hour.

Nearing the harbor entrance again he was confronted with the same architectural conditions which caused him to vary his altitude on the way up. Again he lowered himself and when he reached the open water of the bay he was flying barely 60 feet above the surface. Thence onward he gradually lessened his height. Past Governor's Island the machine sped, an eighth of a mile over the bay, then veering sharply around, Wright headed swiftly for the landing place on which he settled with the ease of a bird, amid the enthusiastic plaudits of soldiers and civilians.

ooker Washington Wants Negro Doctors For Negroes

ASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—"I do not to say that the negro doctor should practice among his race, I do think that any fair-minded on will agree with me that we t to have a fair proportion of ne- doctors to practice among negro nts," said Professor Booker T. hington, of Tuskegee Institute, in essing the matriculating students loward University yesterday.

He made an earnest appeal for the support and confidence of the people of the country, regardless of race or color, in the medical branch of Howard University. The South, especially, he argued, should realize what that institution is doing for it in helping to preserve the health of the negro.

Prof. Washington admonished the students that the high medical standard already established must be maintained. He said there are about 3,500 negro physicians in the country, and urged that that number be doubled.

Attorneys for the State yesterday offered Judge Cotteral certified checks for the amounts claimed by the petitioners for a receiver but asked that the checks remain with the court until it can be shown that the bank has offsets against these deposits.

Commissioner Young and the other members of the State banking board declared last night that the restraining order does not apply to them because, they assert, it enjoins them from preferring one creditor above another, which they deny doing or having done in the past.

BLIND TIGER BOOZE KILLS NEGRO WOMAN.

One more death can be checked up to blind tiger booze.

Sunday night Eliza Wait suffered with cramp colic. She had an idea that a little whiskey would relieve the suffering and sent down on the pike for a supply. When she obtained the concoction she gulped down the whole pint as fast as she could. The poison soon commenced to have its effect and she never recovered from the dose. It is said that she exposed herself to the cold while intoxicated and it was this that caused her death. The matter is being investigated by the authorities.—Lake City Index.

J. A. Naftzger, the Jewel Laundry man, is enlarging and improving his building and having his new boiler installed, which makes his place a new steam laundry. His rapid increase in business during the past few months has necessitated the change and he feels that the coming winter will make a still larger business for him and he proposes to be enabled to meet the demand.

Appendicitis Operations Should Be Called Criminal

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—"An operation for appendicitis should be called a criminal operation and as such should be prohibited by law," declares Dr. Charles E. Page, one of the best-known Boston physicians.

"I have been following the records of appendicitis operations ever since the craze for this form of surgery started," says Dr. Page, "and I confidently believe that the day is coming when the people will realize that the cutting of the appendix is a criminal operation.

"As for the widely proclaimed benefits and saving of life by operations to cut the appendix, it seems hardly necessary to cite the long list of deaths following the operation."

Telephone Safeguards Valuable Fruit Crops

One of the benefits the telephone has conferred upon the farming population of the West is in safeguarding crops. With the coming of the season's first severe frost in the fruit sections of Colorado and Utah was reported the story of how fruit growers, by organized use of the telephone, were able to combat successfully the killing blight. Valuable crops were saved by means of the systematic gathering of weather reports.

The farmers in this section are much elated over the success of their endeavors, and they are blessing the little instrument that made possible their victory over Jack Frost. A striking evidence of the value of the telephone lies in dispatches from the Grand Valley, in western Colorado. Across the line, in Utah, a late frost caused heavy losses. The cold was every bit as intense in Colorado, but here the farmers had their organization and the fruit was saved.

In this particular locality the rural telephone service was on the lines of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company, and the instruments in the fruit growers' hands were those of the Western Electric Company, which makes all the telephones used in the entire Bell system. The story of how these Colorado growers banded together for mutual profit is an interesting one. The journal issued by the telephone company describes it in these words:

"The Grand Valley is about eighteen miles long and from two to four miles wide. The growers divided the valley into districts and employed a man in each district to make thermometer readings during cold nights or when the weather forecasts indicated any chance for frost. These readings were reported to the weather bureau by telephone every hour. When the cold wave started up the valley the observer in the district first reached by it reported the drop in temperature immediately and continued to report every few minutes as the mercury continued to go down. When the danger point approached, the weather buerau instructed the telephone company to advise all fruit growers in the valley to start fires in their smudge pots. The telephone company sent the word to every grower who had a telephone and in a few minutes smudge pots were burning in all parts of the valley.

"The crop was thus saved and at minimum cost. It was estimated by a fruit expert who was on the ground during these frosts that it cost the growers one cent an hour to operate smudge pots and there were approximately 250,000 in use, making the total cost $2,500 an hour for the valley. If the telephone had not been used it would have been necessary to operate the smudge pots about ten hours each cold night to be on the safe side. As it was, they were operated only about four hours, thus making a saving of $15,000 each cold night. In addition to this, the grower was enabled to sleep up to the time of lighting the pots, which was an important fact when one reflects that this took place in the busy season, when growers had to work hard all day.

"The growers of the Grand valley have perfected a regular organization in this connection and have a systematized method for receiving the telephone information. Their success has caused others to take great interest in the matter with a view of taking advantage of the idea in other localities where frost damage is a constant menace to the fruit industry.

"As the telephone is a factor necessary to the success of such a plan, representatives of the telephone company should make every effort to give information regarding this matter to all fruit growers in the territory. The grower without a telephone cannot hope to profit by such an arrangement."

A similar experience was reported not so long aso by fruit growers in Canon City, Colorado. Instances of this sort go far toward explaining the enormous increase of telephones in the West during the past few years. Ranchmen, farmers and fruit growers without telephones find that they are severely handicapped.

Jacksonville, Florida.

Gentlemen: I wish to thank you for your check in the sum of $5,000.00, which has just been handed me by your District Agent, Mr. B. B. Stripling of Ocala, in full settlement of my claim under policies 2057-8 held by my late husband, Dr. Harry L. Pearce. Proofs of loss were forwarded to your office last night, reaching there this morning, and check in payment issued and forwarded immediately. The dispatch in which this claim has been handled clearly demonstrates the advantage of dealing with a home company, thereby avoiding delays in making settlements.

Dr. Pearce took out these policies less than 19 months ago, and at that time was in perfect health. His untimely death forcibly shows the wisdom of securing protection afforded by life insurance when in an insurable condition.

Your immediate and satisfactory payment of my claim is very much appreciated, and you have my best wishes for the continued success of the tried and proven "Florida Life."

Very respectfully,
LYDE BOWERS PEARCE,
Beneficiary.

A PLEASANT WAY TO CURE CATARRH.

Poor deluded victims!

Continually sprinkling and spraying and stomach dosing.

What are you doing it for?

Trying to kill the catarrh germs?

Might just as well try to kill a cat with fresh milk.

Sticking a piece of chewing gum in the upper left hand corner of the right ear would slaughter just as many germs.

You can't kill the germs that cause catarrh unless you get where they are.

You can get where the germs are by breathing Hyomei, the powerful yet soothing antiseptic, which is prepared especially to kill catarrh germs.

Just breathe it in, that's all. It gives joyful relief in five minutes. It is guaranteed by J. W. McCollum & Co. to cure catarrh, or money back.

It is sold by leading druggists everywhere. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00. Extra bottle, 50c. Cures sore throat, coughs and colds.

"I take especial pride in recommending Hyomei to asthmatic sufferers, as I know by experience that it is a remedy that cures. I have not since using Hyomei had any recurrence of asthma."—Mrs. Wm. Burton, Owosso, Mich., June 22, 1909.

MI-O-NA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching, and cures all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR stops the cough and heals lung

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Gainesville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Gainesville people endorse this claim:

Mrs. Eliz. Ratherree, 201 W. McCormick street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "For years I suffered from dragging pains in my back, often so severely that I could not move. The secretions from my kidneys were also irregular in passage and caused me further annoyance. Any cold I contracted aggravated my trouble and at such times I was in misery. A friend finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. The first few doses gave me relief and when I had taken the contents of one box, the pains disappeared and my kidneys became normal. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to give them the credit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MICANOPY WANTS ROADS.

Committee Was Before the Commissioners Here on Tuesday.

The good people of Micanopy are alive to the good roads movement and are working to get all of them they possibly can in their district.

Besides already having more hard roads than any other section of the county, they sent a special committee to the city to meet the board and will make an extra effort to have the road connected with the Marion county road in the next few months, as well as close up the gap that is now open between Gainesville and that place.

Imperfect Digestion

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

For Church Benefit.

We are requested to announce that there will be a box supper given at the home of Mrs. G. A. Rollins at Rochelle on next Friday night, October 8th, the proceeds to go toward the Baptist church debt of that place.

YOU DON'T NEED TO KNEAD BREAD

And you wouldn't, either, if you would only ask your grocer for bread made by the Keystone Bakery. See that your grocer doesn't try to sell you something "Just as good."

During the last fiscal year the emigration from the United States to Canada was the largest on record and even exceeds the number of arrivals from Great Britain. The newcomers are chiefly experienced agriculturists with capital.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick has offered $1,000,000 toward the improvement of the Lake Michigan shore, if other wealthy residents will make up an equal amount. It is evident that while J. D. Rockefeller has showered millions in institutions he has not been stingy with his children.

Mr. Leighton, chief hydrographer of the Hawaiian branch of the geodetic survey, proposes that the island of Kahoolewas, lying southwest of Maui, be reforested and correct records of climatic conditions kept to determine the extent to which vegetation affects rainfall. If an experiment in reforestation is to be undertaken, why not take some American island?

One of the best things we know is the wise practical steps being taken by some labor unions and fraternal societies to fight the white plague. The Typographical Union and the Modern Woodmen have beautiful and thoroughly equipped homes for this purpose in Colorado and the best of medical treatment and care. Numerous patients have already been cured of this insidious disease and their homes filled with consequent joy and happiness.

When Governor Johnson of Minnesota died he left the very modest fortune of $37,000. The smallness of the amount shows that he was in politics, not to make money, but to serve his fellow-men. When Harriman died he left, so it is said, a fortune of $100,000,000, but not one cent of that vast amount, so far as can be learned, was left to any hospital, orphanage, asylum or other similar institution. It is not necessary to comment on all this—the facts speak for themselves.

The Gainesville Sun gets up the best State news department we ever saw, and if Brother McCreary will promise to keep it a secret, believe we will steal 'em.—Orlando Reporter-Star. Thanks for your compliment, Brother Pratt. Our "little girl," who has charge of the State news department, is now confined to her bed with a severe attack of tonsilitis, however, and you need not expect her "old dad" to keep that department up to the standard which she has been keeping it for the past few weeks.

The time was, and that quite recently, when the reckless way in which our railroads killed and maimed passengers was a reproach to the roads and made traveling unsafe. But of late a most welcome change has taken place. Last year several roads did not kill a single passenger, although the number carried amounted to very many millions. This fact shows a greater efficiency in service, a higher regard for the safety of passengers, and a better equipment with safety appliances. In no small degree this improvement is also due to the enactment and enforcement in some States of salutary laws.

WHAT TO DO FOR DIRT ROADS.

No county anywhere ought to be content with ordinary dirt roads for its main arteries of travel. Whatever we may say about improving our common dirt roads, therefore, is not intended to make any reader content to have simply dirt roads for the main highways of his county. For all these roads there must be sooner or later macadam or gravel or sand-clay. Let us decide upon this and keep up the agitation in season and out of season until this good result is accomplished, says The Progressive Farmer.

At the same time while working for these more expensive methods for the "big roads," let's see to it that the neighborhood roads are also made better. The principles of good drainage, upon which stress has been laid by so many of our writers, may certainly be adopted, and this is admittedly the greatest need, taking our section as a whole. In the hill country, however, the necessity for avoiding heavy grades is almost as pressing. We must always remember that a road is no better than its worst places. If there is a grade or any rough place over which your team can pull only 500 pounds to the horse, then your load must always be 500 pounds a horse, although the road for nine-tenths of the distance may be good enough for a load of 900 pounds. We learn to go around the hills, not over them, and perhaps the first step in the improvement of half our country roads ought to be new surveys, making them straighter where it can be done without increasing the grade, and decreasing the grade wherever it is excessive.

Mr. J. R. Parrott is at Biarritz, a watering place in the south of France, says The Ocala Banner, and writes under date of September 20th that he is regaining his health every day and hopes to bring back to Florida energy and strength enough to fully meet all the demands that may be made upon him. There are limitations to everyone's strength and Mr. Parrott taxed his too heavily, and as a result, it gave way, and his friends became very solicitous concerning him, and it will be pleasant news for them to know that he is recovering his health now very rapidly. Mr. Parrott has visited England, Austria, Germany, France and Spain, but says that none of these places appeal to him in the same way that Florida does, and he is anxious to be back home and in working harness once more. Talk about friends, but you will never find a truer one than Mr. Parrott has been to Florida.

A New York judge has called upon William Hornblower, Samuel Untermeyer and De Lancey Nicoll to conduct the defence in three murder cases. For their services they will receive $500 apiece, all the law allows for defense of respondents unable to employ counsel. Their customary fees would probably amount to twenty times that amount for the time required. In their willingness to serve prisoners of a class which is for the most part forced to depend upon counsel incompetent to handle a case in which life is involved, these distinguished lawyers set good example for professional brethren everywhere. In these days of legal specialists and large fees it is often forgotten that the attorney is a sworn officer of the court and the servant of justice.

Drugs are going out of style. At the conference of the American Hospital Association it was reported that 15 years ago the annual cost of medicines for each patient in the Massachusetts General Hospital was about $2, while last year it was only 91 cents. Fresh air, simple food, common sense and a few other commodities have been found to be both cheaper and more efficacious than drugs.

Having secured State-wide prohibition by act of the Legislature, the temperance forces in Alabama are not in complete accord on the question of a constitutional amendment prohibiting all liquor-selling. There is no immediate prospect of the prohibition law being repealed, but many persons who favor it believe that it should be optional with the people to repeal the law if they see fit. The experience of Maine will be of interest to Alabama. In Maine, where prohibition is prescribed by the constitution, the issue of resubmission has been raised in successive elections. The Republicans, who control the State, have been divided on the question at their conventions, but the extreme temperance wing has prevented the party from indorsing resubmission. In Alabama, where for all practical purposes there is only one political party, the difficulty of repealing a prohibition amendment, once it was adopted, would be greater than in Maine. A majority of the voters can adopt the amendment, but as a preliminary to repealing it two-thirds of the Legislature must vote for its removal before the question can be submitted at popular election.

STRANGE MAN FOUND WANDERING ON ROAD.

LAKELAND, Oct. 5.—A. C. L. section men brought an unknown man to Lakeland at 1 o'clock Thursday morning, having found him unconscious and badly injured on the railroad track near Winston, about two miles from here. He was placed in the Lakeland Sanitarium and it was found his arm was badly mangled, he was bruised about the head and otherwise injured. Amputation of the arm was found necessary, and the railroad surgeon removed the injured member.

The man has been unable to give any connected account of himself, or of how he was injured, but it is presumed that he was either walking along the track or asleep upon it and was struck by a passing train. He has mentioned Norfolk, Va., in his rambling talk, and it is possible that he comes from that city or has rela tives there.

HANDS CRACKED RAW AND SCALY

Itched and Burned Terribly—Arms Affected, Too—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep and Work Often Impossible—Was Fairly Worn Out.

CUTICURA SOON CURED HIS FEARFUL ECZEMA

"About a year ago an itching humor began to appear around the back of my hand. It started in to spread, and pretty soon it covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, as I was doing a good part of the time, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad in around the pit of my thumbs that I could not move the thumbs without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching and did not seem to heal my hands up at all. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep, often lying awake until well toward morning, then waking up still tired. I am a chef and steward by trade and I had to give up my place, as my hands were so terrible to look at that they did not like to have me around about the food. I could not bear to touch them with water, but when I positively had to get my hands clean I would rub them with oil.

"This sort of business went on for three months and I kept trying zinc and tar ointments and such remedies with no particular benefit. I did not know what to do, for I was fairly worn out. For a long time several friends kept asking me why I didn't use Cuticura and at last I thought I would. First I got the Cuticura Soap, then Cuticura Ointment and at last Cuticura Resolvent. I put the Cuticura Ointment on at night, covering my hands with light cotton gloves. In the morning the inside of the gloves would be lined with scales, sometimes half as long as your finger, leaving nice healed places where the scales had been. In a month I was cured and have kept so now for nine months. My hands and arms are perfectly clear of all traces of eczema and I think I am well rid of it. Walter H. Cox, 16 Somerset St., Boston, Mass. Sept. 25, 1908."

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

COTTON CONDITION LOWEST FOR YEARS

WEATHER AND FINANCES COMBINE TO PRODUCE RESULT.

Average Sept. 25 Was 58.5, Compared With 69.7 Last Year and 67 for Ten Year Average.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—The most unfavorable report on the condition of the cotton crop issued by the Department of Agriculture at this season of the year for many years was made public yesterday. Financial and weather conditions combined to make the report unfavorable.

Yesterday's official report indicated that on September 25 the condition of the cotton crop was only 58.5 per cent of normal, as compared with 63.7 per cent on August 25, 1909; 69.7 on September 25, 1908; 67.7 on September 25, 1907, and 67 per cent on the average for ten years on August 25, 1909.

After the announcement by the Department of Agriculture of the figures recording the average for this month, Dr. S. A. Knapp, chief of the co-operative demonstration work for the Department of Agriculture in the South, after the conference with Secretary Wilson, said that the serious falling off in the figures, especially for Louisiana and Mississippi, were due to two conditions.

Causes of Deterioration.

One was the excessive rainfall in the early part of the cotton crop season, followed by a serious drought, and the second was the failure of cotton planters to order advances on their crops from bankers. The latter reason forced the planters to dismiss a considerable part of their labor at a time when the boll weevil was a most serious pest. Dr. Knapp stated that another reason which induced a falling off in the general average of Louisiana was that there was practically thirty per cent less of acreage in cotton than in previous years.

The boll weevil did serious damage during the past year in the southwestern quarter of Mississippi.

"In my opinion," said Dr. Knapp, "the really serious trouble which applies to all the cotton States was brought about by the excessive rainfall in the early part of the season and the excessive drought in the latter part. In some of the States planters scarcely could obtain water enough for their live stock. This was particularly true of Texas and Oklahoma. What is known as the New Orleans storm, which passed up through portions of Louisiana and Western Mississippi, blew out immense quantities of cotton, and served seriously to detract from the excellence of the crop."

Wilson Won't Talk Cotton.

Secretary Wilson declined to make any statement regarding the figures given out by his department. He said that he would talk about the wheat crop, about the condition of cattle in the West and about almost anything else but cotton. He said that Dr. Knapp knew more about the cotton crop from practical observance of conditions in the South than any other man in the department, and had nothing to add to the statement made by him.

Comparison of conditions by State follows:

States	Sept. 25, 1909.	Sept. 25, 1908.	10-year average.
Virginia	71	78	75
N. Carolina	70	69	70

MELROSE NOTES.

MELROSE, Oct. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Yearwood, who were married at Tampa on Wednesday at the residence of Miss Susie Mullin's stepsister, Mrs. W. Roberts, were the guests of honor at a large dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Yearwood on Thursday. Some seventy-five guests were present to enjoy the excellent fare provided. The dining-room was tastily decorated with flowers, evergreens and festoons of various colored crepe paper. On Friday evening a miscellaneous shower was given the young couple at Miss L. Jackson's, a large number of pretty as well as useful presents being received. Mr. and Mrs. Yearwood expect to leave for Atlanta next week. Their many friends extend best wishes for their future.

Another marriage took place here on the 24th of September, when P. M. J. Benton was married to Miss F. Holder by Rev. B. R. Moseley.

Mr. and Mrs. von Noszky have returned from White Springs and Jacksonville.

H. Lewis of Gainesville, who has been here putting down a 40-foot well for L. M. Pearsall, returned home on Saturday.

Among those returned from their visits North are Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Kent, Rev. Julian and family and Mrs. O. Grimes.

Dr. Frank McRae's auto has arrived and is a "dandy." So far the Doctor has found no sand deep enough to bother the machine in the least.

T. A. Birt is busy adding a room and porch to the old Willetts cottage, which he will occupy later on.

The lumber for the public motor boat dock has arrived and work will be begun on it as soon as possible. It will be located at the foot of Front street and will prove a great convenience for motor or rowboats from Earleton or Waldo.

Mrs. W. B. Aycock and Mrs. King of Pollard, Ala., were visitors in town last week.

FOR CITY MARSHAL.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville: A special election having been called on Tuesday, October 19, for the election of a Marshal to succeed Ben T. Arnow, resigned, I beg to announce that I will be a candidate for that office, and ask the support of my friends. Being thoroughly experienced along the line of police work which has been gained by a practical experience, and being now acting Marshal, if my action in this capacity meets your approval, I ask your votes to be continued in office.

Sincerely, HARRY L. OWENS.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for City Marshal at the special election to be held on October 19th. I am in the race until the polls close on the day of the election, and respectfully solicit the votes of my fellow-citizens, promising, if elected, to perform the duties of the office without fear or favor. Give me your support, and you will never have cause to regret it.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

The Diamond Remains a Mystery.

As a substance the diamond is one of the mysteries of nature, one of the despairs of science. Nobody knows whence it came or how, whether it is a spark from a comet's tail or a crystallized drop squeezed in some horrible intensity of fiery convulsion from the white hot insurgent heart of the earth. Nobody knows much about it at all, except that it doesn't belong to this world. Some known black diamonds literally were from the skies. They came imbedded in meteorites cast upon Arizona and Chile by an unidentified star. One does not prospect for chips of stars. As well search for the end of the rainbow. Neither is it practical to hammer all sorts of eruptive rock and conglomerate wherever come upon. Earthquake or volcanic upheaval districts are not necessarily the most promising, for often diamonds that seem to have had volcanic origin occur thousands of miles from the probable place of extrusion, carried thence, it is assumed, by glacial drift in some far back geological time.—Franklin Clarkin in Everybody's Magazine.

An Athletic Game.

The cobbler's shop in a small village was filled with old men and a young man, the young man being a good football player. Naturally the conversation drifted to the game of football.

The young man turned to one of the old men and asked him if he had ever played the game. The veteran thoughtfully blew a cloud of tobacco smoke from his lips and replied:

"Nay, lad. I've never played at none o' them athletic games 'cept dominos."—London Mail.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all druggists.
